MARION'S BIG DAY

7:00 A. M.—First delegation composing one thousand Marionites call on the candidate.

8:00 A. M.—Miscellaneous delegations arrive at Harding's home.

2:00 P. M.—Notification ceremonies, beginning at Garfield Park.

Whole Town Goes to Marion

Marion, Ohio, July 22—The entire population of Caledonia, Ohio, where Harding lived as a small boy, attended the notification today headed by the Silver Toot band, in which the candidate once topped a horn.

Great Day For Marion

Marion, Ohio, July 22—Senator Warren G. Harding was to be told today of his nomination for the presidency, but it wasn't to be quite as simple as that—anyhow he had almost suspected it.

Some ten thousand words were to be exchanged in the presence of some fifty thousand neighbors, friends and distant acquaintances between Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, chairman of the notification committee appointed by the republican national convention and the candidate.

It was a great day for Harding's home town.

Suffragettes Appeal to Harding

Marion, Ohio, July 22—Militant suffragettes swooped down on Senator Harding today somewhat piqued because the candidate issued an appeal for action on the suffrage amendment by the Tennessee legislature on the eve of their arrival. Militants had not counted on this sudden move by Harding, but they went through with their program and asked the candidate to use his influence for ratification.

Marion, Ohio, July 22—Henry Cabot Lodge, today in his speech notifying Warren G. Harding of his nomination for president, denounced the league of nations covenant as submitted by the president, as "another name for the evil combination which was attempted a hundred years ago by the ill-omened holy alliance."

Lodge spoke at length on the league question and praised Harding for his conspicuous part in the defeat of the league as written.

"We have been and are quite ready to join in agreement with other nations, extension of the Hague convention," he said, "for the building and codification of international law and establishment of a world court of justice; for international conferences in regard to non-justiciable questions and for arrangements to bring about a general reduction of armaments."

"But when we are called upon to become an integral part of a permanent alliance of foreign powers, to engage ourselves in all the conflicts and disputes of Europe where we have no interests, to put ourselves in a position where the youths of a country can be summoned by foreign nations to fight and die in disputes not their own, we absolutely decline the proposition.

"Such has been the policy of the republican party as represented in the senate and such its policy shall remain. We are certain that you who so largely helped us to frame this policy, will, when the executive authority comes to your hands, carry it out in such a manner that we can fulfill our responsibilities to the world without binding ourselves to a league such as was submitted by the president."

Marion, Ohio—(Special). Warren G. Harding was officially notified here of his nomination as the Republican candidate for the presidency. His speech of acceptance is, in part, as follows:

Chairman Lodge, members of notification committee, members of National committee, ladies and gentlemen, the message which you have formally conveyed brings to me a realization of responsibility which is not underestimated. It is a supreme task to interpret the covenant of a great political party, the activities of which are so woven into the history of this republic and a very sacred and solemn undertaking to utter the faith and aspirations of the many millions who adhere to that party. The party platform has charted the way, yet, somehow, we have come to expect that interpretation which voices the faith of nominees who must assume specific tasks.

Let me be understood clearly from the very beginning. I believe in party sponsorship in government. I believe in party government as distinguished from personal government, individual, dictatorial, autocratic or what not.

No man is big enough to run this great republic. There never has been one, such domination was never intended. Tranquility, stability, dependability—all are assured in party sponsorship, and we mean to renew the assurances which were rendered in the cataclysmal war.

Our first commitment is the restoration of representative popular government, under the constitution, through the agency of the Republican party. Our vision includes more than a chief executive, we believe in a cabinet of highest capacity, equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates, in whose councils the vice president, second official of the Republic, shall be asked to participate. The same vision includes a cordial understanding and co-ordinated activities with a House of Congress, fresh from the people, voicing the convictions which members bring from direct contact with the electorate, and cordial cooperation along with the restored functions of the Senate, fit to be the greatest deliberative body of the world.

It is not difficult, Chairman Lodge, to make ourselves clear on the question of international relationship. We, Republicans of the Senate, conscious of our solemn oaths and mindful of our constitutional obligations, when we saw the structure of a world super-government taking visionary form, joined in a becoming warning of our devotion to this Republic. If the torch of constitutionalism had not been dimmed, the delayed peace of the world and the tragedy of disappointment and European misunderstanding of America easily might have been avoided. The Republicans of the Senate halted the barker of independent American eminence and influence, which it was proposed to exchange for an obscure and unequal place in the merged government of the world. Our party means to hold the heritage in American nationality unimpaired and unsundered.

The world will not misconstrue. We do not mean to hold aloof. We do not mean to shun a single responsibility of this Republic to world civilization. There is no hate in the American heart. We have no envy, no suspicion, no aversion for any people in the world. We hold to our rights and mean to defend, and we mean to sustain the rights of this nation and our citizens alike everywhere under the shining sun. Yet there is the concord of amity and sympathy and fraternity in every resolution. There is a genuine aspiration in every American breast for a tranquil friendship with all the world.

One may readily sense the conscience of our America. I am sure I understand the purpose of the dominant group of the Senate. We were not seeking to defeat a world aspiration, we were resolved to safeguard America. We were resolved then, even as we are today, and will be tomorrow to preserve this free and independent Republic.

In the call of the conscience of America is peace, peace that closes the

SALIENT POINTS IN SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

"I pledge fidelity to our country and to God and accept the nomination of the Republican party for the presidency of the United States. The human element comes first, and I want the employers in industry to understand the aspirations, the convictions, the yearnings of millions of American wage earners."

"The constitution contemplates no class and recognizes no group. It broadly includes all the people, with specific recognition for none."

"We approve collective bargaining."

"Gross expansion of currency and credits has depreciated the dollar. We will attempt intelligent and courageous deflation."

"When competition—natural, fair, impelling competition—is suppressed, whether by law, compact or conspiracy we halt the march of progress, silence the voice of aspiration and paralyze the will for achievement."

"I promise you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign."

"I can hear the call of conscience. An insistent voice for largely reduced armaments throughout the world."

"Our vision includes more than a chief executive. We believe in a cabinet of highest capacity, equal to the responsibilities which our system contemplates, in whose councils the vice-president, second official of the republic shall be asked to participate."

RESOLUTE WINS THIRD RACE BY NARROW MARGIN

CHALLENGER CROSSES FINISH LINE FIRST, BUT LOSES ON TIME ALLOWANCE

(By United Press)
Sandy Hook, N. J., July 22—The American defender Resolute Wednesday defeated Shamrock IV in their series for the America's cup by her time allowance and not a second more.

Resolute won by seven minutes one second, corrected time. The elapsed times of the two sloops was exactly equal after their struggle over a thirty-mile windward and leeward course. Indeed, to the novice the result was in the nature of a paradox, for whereas Shamrock was first to cross the finish line and took exactly the same number of seconds to cover the course, she lost because she had to give Resolute a time allowance of seven minutes and one second to compensate for her greater sail spread.

The series now stands: Shamrock 2; Resolute 1. There will be no race today, as planned, because the green sloop goes to drydock to have her underbody scraped by order of her owner, Sir Thomas Lipton. The next boat race will be on Friday.

Wednesday's tie, both for the boat, was the first in history of the cup races. The finish of the first race won by Resolute in the 1920 regatta, not only recalled but surpassed the contest between Shamrock II and Columbia in 1901, when the yachts finished two seconds apart.

Austin, Minn., 10,118, an increase of 3,158, or 45.4 per cent.

Owatonna, Minn., 7,252, an increase of 1,594, or 28.2 per cent.

Minot, N. D., 10,476, an increase of 4,288, or 69.3 per cent.

SEVEN BIG UNIONS ARE REPORTED AS ACCEPTING AWARD

TELEGRAPHERS REFUSE TO CONSIDER AWARD AND ARE SAID TO HAVE ORDERED A STRIKE

UNION EXECUTIVES WERE IN ALL NIGHT SESSION TRYING TO COMPOSE THE DIFFERENCES

(United Press)
Chicago, July 22—Seven railroad unions today were reported to have definitely accepted the wage awards announced Tuesday by the United States railroad labor wage board.

The order of railroad telegraph operators refused to consider the award according to information today, and their order for a strike vote was said to have been issued.

The order of railroad conductors early today had not determined its attitude. A referendum was said to have been ordered by other railroad crafts.

Trainmen, engineers, switchmen, shopmen, locomotive firemen and engine men and mates and pilots were the organizations said to have definitely accepted the awards.

Railroad labor executives were in an all night conference attempting to reach common ground or acceptability of the award. The conferences were to be continued today. Intimations early today were that all unions would be asked to take a referendum making whatever recommendations were desired.

GIRL TESTIFIES TO CRIMINAL CONDUCT OF FATHER AND SON

AUTHORITIES UNABLE TO FIND BODIES BURIED ON FARM AS TESTIFIED TO

(By United Press)
Steele, N. D., July 22—Mrs. Frances Sheldon, seventeen, sat calm on the witness stand in Kidder county court today telling a jury of crimes her father, James Clinton, and her brother, Roy, are alleged to have committed against her and her little sister, Laura.

Roy was on trial. He sat mute at the prison bar showing little interest in the testimony of his sister. His mother sat in the witness row apparently unmoved by the story. Over in the county jail the father, a sixty year old man, was awaiting trial on similar charges.

Mrs. Sheldon probably will end her testimony this afternoon, and her little sister Laura may be called to the stand.

No one except principals in the case were permitted to enter the court room.

Authorities have been unable to find any of the twenty-six bodies Mrs. Sheldon told them were buried on her father's farm.

PROHIBS. NOMINATE BRYAN FOR PRES.

COMMONER, ON A VACATION, IT IS SAID, WILL REFUSE TO ACCEPT—NEW NOMINATION IS PROBABLE

(United Press)
Lincoln, Neb., July 22—The national prohibition convention last night cast about for another presidential possibility following Wm. Jennings Bryan's reported refusal to head the ticket after his nomination by acclamation.

Party leaders today continued efforts to have Bryan change his attitude and make the race.

The nomination of Bryan came after the party program and precedents had been upset. Nominations had been scheduled for Miss Mary G. Brehm, permanent chairman of the convention, started a stampede for Bryan when she offered a resolution putting his name in nomination. His standards immediately were uprooted and the demonstration started. Nomination of Bryan followed.

Bryan today was vacationing in Minnesota. Clinton Howard, however, declared Bryan would not accept, citing a telegram he received yesterday. He produced the telegram before the convention last night but it did not stay action of the delegates. The telegram advised that Bryan's brother, C. W. Bryan, would furnish the commoner's reason for refusing the nomination.

C. W. Bryan was invited to appear before the convention later. Miss Brehm was prominently mentioned today for the vice-presidential nomination. The platform committee was to continue its session today.

Washington, July 22—In an effort to combat the high cost of living, the war department soon is to place millions of dollars' worth of canned meats on the market at prices below even prewar quotations, said an announcement from the office of the division of sales.

The meats which will be offered for domestic consumption exclusively, are stored in every section of the country and will be disposed of thru wholesale and retail stores from one end of the country to the other. The division of sales also announced that it had enlisted in this work the services of 69,000 postmasters, 5,900 bankers and the mayors of every city and town.

Included in the meats are canned corn beef, corned beef hash, roast beef and bacon.

SWITCHMEN STRIKE AT DENVER AS PROTEST TO WAGE AWARD

(United Press)
Denver, Col., July 22—About fifty Chicago, Burlington & Quincy switchmen here went on a strike today in protest against the U. S. railroad labor board wage awards. Scores of men failed to report for duty on the midnight shift and others scheduled to go to work at 8 a. m. remained away. Other lines around here were not affected.

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE ENLARGED

(By United Press)
St. Paul, July 22—Twenty-two women and seventeen men were added to the personnel of the republican state central committee by the republican nominees meeting here today. Another meeting will be held Aug. 24 when the entire committee will be called.

The committee now has 121 members.

Brainerd gets the big labor convention! Brainerd union men worked valiantly and backed by Mayor F. E. Little's telegram vouchsafing support of organized labor, business men, Chamber of Commerce and citizens in general, the hosts of organized labor in session at Rochester, voted to hold the 1921 convention in Brainerd.

This means a three-days convention in Brainerd next July and one largely attended because of the central location of Brainerd.

P. T. Brown, vice-president of the State Federation, made the speech at the convention, setting forth the advantages of Brainerd.

Thomas Van Lear, of Minneapolis, made a good talk for Brainerd, seconding the nomination.

St. Paul was also a candidate for the convention, but Brainerd won overwhelmingly.

"The convention will bring at least 800 delegates to Brainerd next year," said Alderman Cordes who returned from Rochester Thursday afternoon.

Resolutions demanding that the United States government recognize the Russian soviet republic were adopted at the closing session of the Minnesota Federation of Labor's annual convention. The resolutions "demand that the administration lift the economic and diplomatic blockade of soviet Russia and immediately recognize the Russian soviet republic."

Resolutions requesting impeachment of Judge W. W. Bardwell of Minneapolis, because of injunctions issued in recent labor disputes. Another criticized "Federal Judge Page Morris in the Joel Lichten case at Duluth and demanded the removal of federal immigration officials at Duluth for refusing citizenship papers to Lichten."

President Wilson was urged to pardon Eugene V. Debs in other resolutions adopted. The convention also went on record as endorsing government ownership of railroads; favoring repeal of the Esch-Cummings railroad bill; expressing sympathy for the "oppressed people of India," and criticizing "British imperialism."

Repeal of sedition laws; amnesty for "political prisoners" and making lynching of negroes a federal offense, were asked.

The big battle of the final session was waged around the resolution "urging upon congress the enactment of legislation to permit the manufacture of beer and light wines." After a strenuous two hours' debate the resolution was tabled, 182 to 157, but not until the convention has expressed its wet sympathies by rejecting by a vote of 253 to 174, the report of the committee which had refused to concur in the "beer and wine" resolution.

PASSENGER FARE RAISE SOUGHT BY RAIL OFFICIALS

HALF CENT MILE INCREASE IN RATE WOULD YIELD $200,000,000 EXECUTIVES SAY

FREIGHT BOOST OF 24 PER CENT IN THIS TERRITORY ASKED—EARLY RULING ASKED

Washington, July 22—While federation of labor officials here are confident the railway employees will accept for the time being at least the wage advance granted them in Chicago in preference to striking, the public shortly will be required to foot the bill, included in the biggest single advance of transportation rates ever granted American railroads.

It is regarded as a foregone conclusion that passenger rates will be boosted throughout the country in addition to the largest increase of freight rates on record. An aggregate advance of between 30 and 40 per cent in passenger and freight rates combined is expected, making the total advance of railroad tariffs since 1914 in excess of 20 per cent. With the $600,000,000 wage advance the pay of rail employees has been increased approximately $1,500,000,000 since the beginning of the war period.

Passengers to Share Burden
With the reference to the advance of wages, the railroads here asked the interstate commerce commission to authorize a 28 per cent freight rate raise. Those who have followed the pending proceedings in this case pronounce it a certainty that passenger traffic now will be required to share the burden of the pay raise.

The railway executives' rate committee met here today to consider the extent of the passenger rate advance to be asked of the commission.

1/2 Cent Mile Raise Seen.
An increase from 3 cents a mile to 3 1/2 cents per mile in passenger rates is expected. One proposal is that passenger rates on western roads be boosted to 4 cents per mile and those in the east to 3 1/2 cents.

An increase in passenger rates of 1/2 cent a mile will mean an increase of 39 per cent in freight rates throughout the country. This figure is computed on the theory that the commission will grant the request for an increase of 28 per cent in freight rates to provide additional revenue to meet the existing costs and bring the total earnings of the roads up to 6 per cent on the value of property.

At the postoffice department it was said any increase in mail rates would probably result in higher postal charges.

CITY-BRED MAN
MAY BE FARMER

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE
POINTS WAY TO SUCCESS
IN TILLING SOIL.

NEED SKILL AND JUDGMENT

Experience of Vital Importance Before Acquiring Ownership — Knowledge Obtained by Working on Farm and Attending Winter Short Courses.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—Hope for the city-bred young man who wishes to become a successful farmer but through lack of experience and capital does not know how to attain his desire is held out by E. T. Meredith, secretary of the department of agriculture.

"Many young men in the various occupations of the cities find their minds turning to thoughts of the outdoor life of the farm, but they do not know how to start farming," says Mr. Meredith. "I assume the young men in question are looking for a job that will give them use for their muscles, combined with work for their brains and an outlet for their initiative—something that yields a good living and, most important of all, has prospects for the future."

Secretary Meredith says a mere job is not enough, because the kind of man he has in mind would not be satisfied without looking forward to obtaining independence in middle age and the best of opportunities for his children. He discourages the idea of acquiring ownership of a farm in the beginning even though the capital is at hand, because the need for skill and judgment is most important.

"The cheapest and quickest way to gain this skill," in the opinion of the secretary, "is by working on a well-managed farm in the summer and attending the winter short course in agriculture at the nearest agricultural college. The young man without money will find working for wages on the farm the means of saving a little money and establishing his reputation as a skilled workman and a man of integrity. With a good reputation in these regards but little money is required to start in as a tenant farmer, where he can realize on the extra energy, the better skill and the good management he is able to put into his farming business."

Should Start at Bottom.

"The road is open to the 'farm of your own' and the road is neither longer nor harder for one who likes farming than is the road to success in other occupations, but the safest way is to start at the bottom and climb the 'agricultural ladder.' I do not remember any time when farm labor was in such great demand as at present, or when wages for unskilled farm labor were as good or when the standard of living on the farms was as high as it is now.

"From all parts of the country comes the demand for men who are not afraid to work. If the schedule of the day's wages in the cities appears lavish when compared with the pay of the farm laborer, just remember that the latter gets his board and room—usually his washing and a lot of other things—and that in the cities, where the wages are higher, these things are commanding greatly increased prices.

"In other words, what the farm laborer receives in cash is pretty nearly clear gain. Most of it can be placed in the savings bank and begin to draw interest, while the wages paid in the cities shrink to something much less impressive when all the bills are paid. In the right sort of farming community and the right sort of farmer's household the hired man is received on his merits as a man. If he is a straight, clean sort of fellow, his good qualities will be appreciated in the country as readily as in the city."

Pointing out that living conditions in the country are not what they were a generation ago, Secretary Meredith says good roads and the automobile have worked wonders in removing the greatest hindrance to progress in farming sections.

"The best of it is that all these efforts for the betterment of country life are in their early stages," says Secretary Meredith, referring to social activities. "There is great opportunity for the young man with initiative and new ideas to help make his community just what he wants it to be. And that is a lot more fun than finding something ready-made awaiting you."

"The business of agriculture is different from that of most industries. It gives the all-around man a chance to use his talents. It is not a matter of doing the same thing over and over again day after day as in some factories, for every month and every day brings its own special problems on the farm, and the man who is ingenious and clever at doing a variety of things has a chance to make good.

"In taking a job on the farm, look for one that offers employment for at least nine months of the year. While it may not be possible to get a job for the full twelve months, that is not necessarily a great disadvantage. Find out where the nearest agricultural college is located and arrange to take during the slack period the short course, which runs 12 to 14 weeks during the winter. A man who wants to get ahead can become a scientific farmer while he is saving up capital to become an owner."

TELEPHONE GIRLS WALK OUT TODAY

AS Protest Because of Discharge by Company of Their Union President, Miss Tomlinson

HER REINSTATEMENT REFUSED

Brainerd Unions in Mass Meeting Tonight, Said Girl Operators, to Inquire Into Matter

If you find it hard to raise central today, it's because there's a walk out at the telephone office.

It happened this way, according to the girls, who came to the Dispatch office and told their side of the case.
Miss Agnes Tomlinson, president of Telephone Operators Local 181-A was discharged last Friday night by District Traffic Chief A. C. Fredericks.

A committee of the union met with Mr. Fredericks Tuesday evening and asked for her reinstatement which he refused.

At 10 o'clock Wednesday morning the girls walked out as a protest, 16 union operators joining in the movement. The company had on duty this morning, said the union members, one chief operator and four local operators to handle local and long distance work. Of the four local girls they believed one or more would walk out.

Unions of the city, said the spokesman of the girls, will have a mass meeting at Labor hall at 7 o'clock this evening to consider the walk out.

The Dispatch has asked the Northwestern Telephone Exchange Co. of Brainerd for a statement of its side of the case.

CUTTING THIRD SET OF TEETH

Memphis (Tenn.) Man, at 84, Is Also Renewing His Youth and Vigor
in Other Ways.

The adage that there is nothing new under the sun has been disproved by N. D. Starr, who has cut a third set of teeth at the age of eighty-four,
when usually the only new molars, bicuspids, etc., that can be achieved are those purchased from a dentist.

Mr. Starr, who is in the employ of the Memphis Artesian Water company, recently found himself in need of a set of these artificial substitutes for the teeth provided by nature. But when he visited his dentist the price was too high and he decided to go toothless.
However, through one of the unac-countable happenings which sometimes upsets all rules, Mr. Starr discovered that he was cutting 12 new teeth. They are almost through now, although they are not very useful yet, owing to the fact that his gums are sore in a fashion familiar to all mothers of teething infants or to boys and girls whose second teeth are replacing their baby teeth, and even the older boys and girls who proudly announce:
"I'm cutting a wisdom tooth."

Dentists doubtless will contend that such a thing cannot happen. But Mr. Starr knows that he now has teeth where no teeth were before. Moreover, he says his eyesight is better than it was several years ago, and that so far from his vigor being impaired by advancing years he feels stronger and more youthful than he did when he was seventy.

TELL OF BABYLONIAN LIFE

Interesting Revelations in Clay Tablets
That Were "Written" On Some Forty Centuries Ago.

The University of South Dakota at Vermillion has come into possession of 81 genuine Babylonian tablets, discovered by Arabs in the ruins of buried cities and collected at Bagdad.
They have been deciphered by Dr.
Edgar J. Banks of Alpine, N. J., an authority on these clay and brick records of 4,000 years ago, and their authenticity proved. Fully half of the tablets in this collection are perfect and all of them are legible. They are only a few inches in size and were written on when they were soft clay, later being dried, or baked. Most of them are of about the date 2350 B. C., a few going as far back as 2800 B. C., and others dating from the time of the fall of Babylon before the Persians in 538 B. C. The most valuable tablet of the collection is a letter.
Holes were made through it so that it might be attached to a cord and carried in this way. Next in point of value and interest are a number of neo-Babylonian tablets of sundried clay containing business contracts of all sorts and giving pictures of the life of the people after the Persian conquest. Of special interest is a small tablet of exercises in writing, done by some boy in the temple school over 40 centuries ago.

Hawaii's Pineapple Output.

In the Hawaiian Islands the pineapple industry has, during the last few years, experienced considerable development, causing it to rank second to that of sugar. At present there are about 7,000 acres planted with pineapples.

Signs of Weather Changes.

If a horse is lively without apparent cause, it is a sure sign of cold weather in the near future, but if he stretches out his neck and sniffs it is a sign of rain. If a cat sneezes or sits with its back to the fire it will rain. If she washes her face during a frost it will soon thaw. If she scratches the wall or the leg of a table vigorously the wind will be very high. If asses bray it is another sign of rain.

BABY CLINIC HERE ON JULY 28

Conducted by the Northwestern Pediatric Society, Well Known Baby Specialists

BABIES ARE EXAMINED FREE

Expense of Clinic is Met by the Crow
Wing County Public Health Association

July 28 will be a field day for babies in Brainerd.

His serene highness Mr. Baby and her sublime majesty Miss Baby will hold the throne at Elks hall Wednesday, July 28, when there will be a baby clinic on the boards. And these are always well attended in Brainerd.
On the last occasion over 50 babies were examined and baby carriages about blocked the entrance to the Citizens State bank building.
There were big babies, little babies,
laughing babies, crying babies, twins, first-borns etc., a lot of mamas in attendance and not one single man in sight except the necessary doctors.

And it doesn't cost a cent to have your baby examined. The mother stays right with her baby so there is no chance of mixing them up.

This clinic is conducted by members of the Northwestern Pediatric society, an organization of well-known baby specialists. Any mother may bring her baby free of charge.
The expense of this clinic is met by the Crow Wing County Public Health Association, the money having been raised by the Red Cross Christmas Seal Campaign.

Mothers wishing to bring their babies to the clinic may bring them, before that date to the Public Health Nurses office, City Hall, any afternoon but Saturday between 1:30 and 3:30
p. m. to be weighed and measured.

Bengalese Flattery.

The Babu stands unsurpassed as a writer of really unctuous flattery when he is soliciting a favor. Few complied "by the grace of God, a gentleman your highness much resembles."— North China Herald.

Would Please Him.

Lindsey had the little hen fast and was trying to bring her head close to the ground. "What might you be trying to do?" exclaimed her father coming upon the small girl in the yard.
"I'm trying to make this hen say her prayers." "Well," said the parent sadly, "I hope she'll say: 'Now I lay me.'"

COAL SHORTAGE IN NORTHWEST WILL BE VERY SEVERE

Columbus, Ohio, July 22—The coal shortage will be so acute in the northwest this winter that people will be forced to live together in community houses and schools and churches.
John Moore, president of the Ohio mines, predicted today. Unless immediate relief is forthcoming he predicted, there will be a shortage of ten million tons in that region. Moore declared that many of the western coal mines are still worked only two days a week.

Believe Coal Will be Received

St. Paul, July 22—Despite reports from the east that delivery of normal amount of coal to the northwest will be impossible, state officials today declared they believed the northwest will receive enough coal to prevent a famine.

O. P. B. Jacobson, state railroad and warehouse commissioner, said sufficient coal will be received to relieve the threatened shortage.

N. P. PETITIONS FOR INCREASED RATES

St. Paul, July 22—The Northern Pacific railroad today petitioned the state railroad and warehouse commission for an increase in rates in view of increased wages award announced by the federal railroad wage board.
A hearing was set for August 16.
Other railroads operating in Minnesota are expected to ask increased rates soon.

KIDS CIRCUS

Down at Faribault youngsters are staging a "kids circus". All Faribault children are interested in the circus. The menagerie is just jammed with snakes and horned toads and worms, billy goats, roosters, owls etc.

The mere fact that such a kid circus has been staged shows that Faribault is a big pal to all the kids in its confines.

Next to seeing a real circus, every child delights to play "at circus".

Breathes there a man with soul so dead who as a kid has never tried to do the slack wire walk on his mother's clothes line and come down with the wreck?

How many prim, staid old ladies can remember the time when as kids they tried to imitate the lady contortionist?

The world of children is a "make-believe" one and the glamour of the circus always remains. In fact when many of the older people read of how Faribault children are staging slide shows with miniature ballet girls, are presenting juvenile jazz bands, minstrels, are having a regular Huckleberry Finn Circus on a gigantic scale, every one of us, young and old, wishes he could carry water for the elephant or manage to elude the vigilant entrance guards and duck under the canvas of the "big top" to see the grand afternoon performance. And to think of the red lemonade and the candy and popcorn and cracker-jack and peanuts that go with the circus.

Brainerd could well afford to follow Faribault's wonderful idea and encourage the Brainerd kids to stage a circus here.

WHOOOPS IN LITTLE FALLS

Old John Smith age 133, is in Little Falls with a company of several Chippewas and is appearing at a theatre in song and dance act. John was asked to give a sample of his war whoops and he whooped to the complete satisfaction of Little Falls.

It wasn't so many years ago when whoops of all kinds were common in our sister city and attracted little attention unless it bothered the cop. In company with the whoops there were such concomitants as big heads, brown noses, broken front springs, increased temperature and a wild desire to climb trees and mar the landscape. And these whoops were not all indigenous.

FAVORABLE MENTION

The way in which Brainerd solved its financial problems when it came to putting in paving in this city has been favorably commented on by the commercial world and has drawn eyes on Brainerd.

It has shown Brainerd as being a community blessed with banks and firms and individuals who have the interests of the city at heart and back their faith in the city by their money.

It shows also that when necessary a town can act independently of any outside bond house.

A LIVE TOWN

A live town is one if you make it so. Merely grumbling about a town, dwelling on past performances, taking no part in public progress and improvement, shows that such a citizen is a "dead one", and if there are enough of his tribe, why the whole town is dead as a result. In these days of community work a town rises or falls according to the spirit of its citizens.

CROSBY COMPLIMENTED

Crosby, Brainerd's near neighbor, gained widespread mention because of the whole-hearted, hospitable way in which he entertained the Northern Minnesota Editorial Association.

Crosby citizens worked like a big machine and carried out with enthusiasm every detail looking to the comfort and pleasure of the sight-seers and their families and friends.

SEN. HARDING'S SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE A NEW KEYNOTE

gaping wound of world war, and silences the impassioned voices of international envy and distrust. Heeding this call and knowing as I do the disposition of the Congress, I promise you formal and effective peace so quickly as a Republican Congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign.

It is better to be the free and disinterested agent of international justice and advancing civilization, with the covenant of conscience, than be shackled by a written compact which surrenders our freedom of action and gives to a military alliance the right to proclaim America's duty to the world. No surrender of rights to a world council or its military alliance, no assumed mandatory however appealing, ever shall summon the sons of this Republic to war. Their supreme sacrifice shall only be asked for America and its call of honor. There is a sanctity in that right we will not delegate.

Disposed as we are, the way is very simple. Let the failure attending assumption, obstinacy, impracticability and delay be recognized, and let us find the big, practical, unselfish way to do our part, neither covetous because of ambition nor hesitant through fear, but ready to serve ourselves, humanity and God. With a Senate advising as the constitution contemplates, I would hopefully approach the nations of Europe and of the earth, proposing that understanding which makes us a willing participant in the consecration of nations to a new relationship, to commit the moral forces of the world, America included, to peace and international justice, still leaving America free, independent and self-reliant, but offering friendship to all the world. It is folly to close our eyes to outstanding facts. Humanity is restive, much of the world is in revolution, the agents of discord and destruction have wrought their tragedy in pathetic Russia, have lighted their torches among other peoples, and hope to see America as a part of the great red conflagration. Ours in the temple of liberty under the law, and it is ours to call the sons of opportunity to its defense. America must not only save herself, but ours must be the appealing voice to sober the world.

It must be understood that toil alone makes for accomplishment and advancement, and righteous possession is the reward of toil and its incentive. There is no progress except in the stimulus of competition.

The chief trouble today is that the world war wrought the destruction of healthful competition, left our storehouses empty, and there is a minimum production when our need is maximum. Maximums not minimums is the call of America. It isn't a new story because war never fails to leave depleted storehouses and always impairs the efficiency of production. War also establishes its higher standards for wages and they abide. I wish the higher wage to abide, on one explicit condition—that the wage-earner will give full return for the wage received.

I want, somehow, to appeal to the sons and daughters of the republic, to every producer, to join hand and brain in production, more production, honest production, patriotic production because patriotic production is no less a defense of our best civilization than that of armed force. Profiteering is a crime of commission. Underproduction is a crime of omission. We must work our most and best else the destructive reaction will come.

The menacing tendency of the present day is not chargeable wholly to the unsettled and fevered conditions caused by the war. The manifest weakness in popular government lies in the temptation to appeal to group citizenship for political advantage.

It would be the blindness of folly to ignore the activities in our own country which are aimed to destroy our economic system, and to commit us to the colossal tragedy which has destroyed all freedom and made Russia impotent. This movement is not to be halted in throttled liberties. We must not abridge the freedom of speech, the freedom of press, or the freedom of assembly, because there is no promise in repression. These liberties are as sacred as the freedom of religious belief, as inviolable as the rights of life and the pursuit of happiness. We do hold to the right to crush sedition to stifle a menacing contempt for law, to stamp out a peril to the safety of the republic or its people, when emergency calls, because security and the majesty of the law are the first essentials of liberty. He who threatens destruction of the government by force or flaunts his contempt for lawful authority ceases to be a loyal citizen and forfeits his rights to the freedom of the republic. No party is indifferent to the welfare of the wage earner. To us his good fortune is of deep concern and we seek to make that good fortune permanent. We do not oppose but approve collective bargaining because that is an outstanding right, but we are unalterably insistent that its exercise must not destroy the equally sacred right of the individual in his necessary pursuit of livelihood. Any American has the right to quit his employment, so has every American the right to seek employment. The group must not endanger the individual, and we must discourage groups preying upon one another and none shall be allowed to forget that the government's obligations are alike to all the people.

We are so confident that much of the present day insufficiency and inefficiency of transportation are due to the withering hand of government operation that we emphasize anew our opposition to government ownership. We want to expediate the reparation and make sure the mistake is not repeated.

A state of inadequate transportation facilities, mainly chargeable to the failure of governmental experiment in losing millions to agriculture. It is hindering industry, it is menacing the American people with a fuel shortage little less than a peril. It emphasizes the present-day problem and suggests that spirit of encouragement and assistance which commits all America to relieve such an emergency.

Gross expansion of currency and credit have depreciated the dollar just as expansion and inflation have discredited the coins of the world. We inflated in haste, we must deflate in deliberation. We debased the dollar in reckless finance. We must restore in honesty. In all sincerity we promise the prevention of unreasonable profits, we challenge profiteering with all the moral force and the legal powers of government and people but it is fair, aye, it is timely, to give reminder that law is not the sole corrective of our economic ills.

Let us call to all the people for thrift and economy, for dental and sacrifice if need be for a nation wide drive against extravagance and luxury, to a recommitment to simplicity of living, to that prudent and normal plan of life which is the health of the republic. New conditions which attend amazing growth and extraordinary industrial development call for a new and forward looking program. The American farmer had 129,000,000 to feed in the home market, and heard the cry of the world for food and answered it, though he faced an appalling task amid handicaps never encountered before. Contemplating the defenselessness of the individual farmer to meet the organized buyers of his products and the distributors of the things the farmer buys, I hold that farmers should not only be permitted but encouraged to join in cooperative associations to reap the just measure of reward merited by their arduous toil.

Our platform is an earnest pledge of renewed concern for this most essential and elemental industry and in both appreciation and interest we pledge effective expression in law and practice. We will hail that cooperation which again will make profitable and desirable the ownership and operation of comparatively small farms intensively cultivated, and which will facilitate the caring for the products of farm and orchard without the lamentable waste under present conditions.

America would look with anxiety on the discouragement of farming activity either through the government's neglect or its paralysis by socialistic practices. A Republican administration will be committed to renew regard for agriculture, and seek the participation of farmers in curing the ills justly complained of, and aim to place the American farm where it ought to be highly ranked in American activities and fully sharing the highest good fortunes of American life.

Becomingly associated with this subject are the policies of irrigation and reclamation, so essential to agricultural expansion, and the continued development of the great and wonderful west. It is our purpose to continue and enlarge federal aid, not in sectional partiality, but for the good of all America.

I believe the budget system will effect a necessary, helpful reformation, and reveal business methods to government business.

I believe federal departments should be made more business-like and send back to productive effort thousands of federal employees, who are either duplicating work or not essential at all.

I believe in reciprocal tariff policy and know we will be calling for its saving Americanism again.

I believe in a great merchant marine. I would have this Republic the leading maritime nation of the world.

I believe in a navy ample to protect it and able to assure us dependable defense.

I believe in a small army but the best in the world with a mindfulness for preparedness which will avoid the murtherable cost of our previous neglect.

I believe in our eminence in trade abroad, which the Government should aid in expanding both in revealing markets and speeding cargoes.

I believe in establishing standards for immigration which are concerned with the future citizenship of the Republic not with mere man power in industry.

I believe that every man who dons the garb of American citizenship and walks in the light of American opportunity must become American in heart and soul. I believe in holding fast to every forward step in unshackling child labor, and elevating condition of women's unemployment.

I believe the federal government should stamp out lynching and remove that stain from the fair name of America.

I believe the federal government should give its effective aid in solving the problem of ample and becoming housing of its citizens.

I believe this government should make its liberty and victory bonds worth all that its patriotic citizens laid in purchasing them.

I believe the tax burdens imposed for the war emergency must be revised to the needs of peace and in the interest of equity in distribution of the burden.

I believe the negro citizens of Amer-

TURNING AWAY FROM MEAT

In New York Big Hotels Meals Entirely of Vegetables Are Increasing in Popularity.

According to the New York Times the diners of the American metropolises are becoming vegetarians. Approximately one-seventh to one-fifth of the guests at the hotels here today are ordering vegetables for their meals instead of meats. All of the big hotels keep a very careful record of the sales of the different items on the menus for each day, and a recapitulation made recently at the Hotel Pennsylvania revealed that a surprising percentage of patrons omitted meat items entirely in their lunch and dinner orders. While the percentage for lunch was much higher than that for dinner, the number of dinner guests who refrained from meat entirely was also very large.

In the opinion of Chef Julien Jacquier of the Pennsylvania this is the result of years of emphasis on the value of vegetarianism. The vegetarian, a few years ago, was very generally the butt of the comic papers; but with the war a great deal more came to be thought of him by people who found that a thoroughly satisfactory meal could be made from vegetables and at much less cost. Chef Jacquier believes that this is responsible for the many calls given nowadays in the big hotels for vegetable luncheons and dinners, which have a special place on the menus.

3 CARS DAMAGED IN COLLISION

Ray Cleary's Roadster Broke a Spring and Drew Up Along the Gull Lake Road

TOURING CAR HITS ROADSTER

Truck Piles Into Roadster. One Man Werner Mahlum Injured as Touring Car Somersaulted

Three cars were damaged in collision on the Gull lake road near the old Indian Mission site about 9:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. These included Ray Cleary's Buick roadster generally smashed, Werner Mahlum's Cadillac touring car badly damaged, and the Ingmund garage truck with a fender crumpled and front axle bent.

As related by Ray Cleary, he was driving north to Nisswa and broke a front spring. He switched his car to the edge of the road and left it in charge of Wm. Swanson.

Shortly after the Cadillac steamed up and smashed into the roadster and Cleary maintains the impact of the collision drove the Buick a car length ahead, and took off a rear wheel. The Cadillac big touring car somersaulted and catapulted about and landed in the opposite ditch. Werner Mahlum was flung out and was hurt. Dr. R. A. Beise picked him up and took him to town.

Mons Mahlum, when seen this morning, claimed the Cleary roadster had no rear light showing and that it contributed to the accident.

With cars in both roadsides, the Ingmund truck came along and seeing no lights, bumped in and damaged its fender and axle when it struck the Cleary roadster.

Cars lined up on both ends of the road and men then worked to clear the disabled cars out of the way so as to prevent any further collisions.

INCREASE IN SHOP PAYROLL

Railway Wage Increases Will Raise Monthly Payroll at Shops Close to $200,000

PRESENT PAYROLL IS $157,600

Old Timers Remember When $60,000 a Month Was Considered Quite a Payroll for the Shops

Brainerd gains its share in the railroad wage increases, and the shops' payroll of approximately $157,600 is raised to about $200,000 a month. These are estimated figures.

A general payday at the Northern Pacific railway shops in Brainerd is apportioned about $145,600 for the shops in general, $6,000 for the men paid monthly, $6,000 for the store room.

The increases amount to about $35,696 for shops in general, $1,500 for the men paid monthly, $1,500 for the store room.

Old timers remember the days when Brainerd considered $60,000 a month a big payday at the shops.

The increases made are retroactive, dating from May 1. Back pay will come in separate checks for the men.

Included in the railway increases in addition to the shops are many other classes represented in Brainerd's industrial world, ranging from maintenance of way men and structural and bridge workers to telegraphers, agents, passenger and freight engineers, firemen, etc.

JURY RETIRES TO SLEEP OVER CASE

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES CHARGE CROSBY MAN WITH HAVING RAISIN MASH

After deliberating for five hours, a jury in federal court in Duluth retired without returning a verdict in the case of Mike Stimich of Crosby, charged with having in his possession last April 24, quantities of raisin mash fit for distillation.

Stimich testified he had been sentenced and fined on three previous occasions in state and federal courts on charges of violating liquor laws. Authorities claim they destroyed several barrels of fermented raisins in the basement of the Stimich boarding house at Crosby, April 24. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stimich took the stand to testify that the mash was merely sweet wine which they were making for their own use.

Return 91 Indictments
Ninety-four indictments have been returned in federal court since the jury convened July 13. Four true bills reported included charges of violation of prohibition laws. The indictments were kept secret to enable authorities to apprehend the persons.

Sentenced to Leavenworth
Mike Stimich of Crosby was sentenced to serve 14 months at Leavenworth and to pay a fine of $500 following his conviction by a jury in the Duluth federal court Wednesday on a charge of having in his possession a quantity of raisin mash fit for distillation of intoxicating liquor. The jury, which took the case at 5 p. m. Tuesday, did not report its verdict until 10 a. m. Wednesday morning.

Stimich had served several sentences in municipal and county institutions on similar charges. He maintained during his latest trial that he had made the mash for his own use and that he was not aware it contained alcohol.

BONUS PAYMENTS HAVE BEEN STOPPED

(By United Press)

St. Paul, July 22—Bonus payments have stopped and it is unlikely any more bonuses will be paid before the first of the year, members of the state soldier bonus board said today.

At the next session of the legislature a law will be asked permitting the board to offer higher rates of interest on certificates of indebtedness so they can be sold in the open market.

Wood Fibers.

The common ideas concerning wood fibers are not justified by the extended tests of the United States forest products laboratory. Each species of wood does not have its characteristic fiber length, but a greater difference may be found between the fibers of an individual tree than between the average lengths in different species. The length of fiber does not seem to affect the strength of the wood, as the longest fibers often belong to the weakest material.

LOCATED NEAR THE GAS HOUSE

Brainerd Joins Cities of State in Movement to Greet Auto Tourists With Glad Hand

Brainerd has joined the movement to greet the auto tourists with a glad hand and do something for his comfort and convenience, so that when he leaves Brainerd he will say:

"Well, there's a town that thinks well of the big stream of tourist travel and I'll put the name of Brainerd down in my book and tell my friends about it."

Arrangements have been made by the Chamber of Commerce through its Committee on Parks and Playgrounds for a tourists' free camp site, with facilities for the making of coffee and the opportunity to register etc. The land just back of the gas house and which is controlled by P. B. Nettleton as agent has been loaned for the season and work is being done there today toward making it presentable and attractive.

Signs will be placed at the chief entrances to the city and at the site itself, and also at suitable corners throughout the city.

Next year a more elaborate arrangement will be made in cooperation with the program of the Associated Highways of Minnesota Association.

Brainerd is one of a number of cities of the state to provide such a site and surely will reap a real and lasting benefit from the advertising she will get from the tourists passing through and who may avail themselves of the opportunity thus afforded to "bide a bit" and rest.

BUSINESS MANAGER REPORTS

Mayor F. E. Little, Chairman of the Board of Directors, Presided at the Meeting

Financial affairs of the Brainerd Baseball club were gone into at length at the Wednesday evening meeting of the directors, held at the new depot. Mayor F. E. Little, chairman of the board, presided.

Mayor Little is to be commended for his public spirit. In addition to giving much time and attention to city affairs of all nature, he has taken great interest in the ball team and presided at practically all meetings and has attended almost every game Brainerd played, whether in town or out of town.

The shop directors were well represented while the down town business section, although heavy in financial support, had but few of its directors in attendance. Business Manager L. C. Strout made a report and listed present obligations.

By motion, carried unanimously, the club decided on a continuance of the financial canvass in fields hitherto unsolicited. J. J. Roney, who was so successful in a two days' solicitation last month, will devote further time to the work.

DULUTH'S CHIEF OF POLICE INDICTED

FOR SMUGGLING LIQUOR INTO THE UNITED STATES FROM CANADA

Duluth, Minn., July 22—Formal indictments, charging conspiracy to smuggle liquor from Canada into the United States, were returned Wednesday against John Murphy, ex-chief of police; Frank L. Bradley, ex-deputy United States marshal; Frank Schaeffer, Duluth cigar dealer, and John Hamilton, taxicab driver. Two additional indictments containing liquor charges were returned against Murphy and Bradley. Three secret indictments returned are alleged to be in connection with the Murphy-Bradley case.

Plead Not Guilty

Through their attorneys Murphy and Bradley entered pleas of not guilty to both indictments, when arraigned before Judge Morris yesterday afternoon. Schaeffer also entered a plea of not guilty to the one charge placed against him. All three men were released on $5,000 bail each.

Hamilton, the fourth man named in the indictment, is still at large. He is believed to have escaped the city in his automobile, and to have made his way across the Canadian border. He is reported as having passed through Grand Marais, Minn., and to have obtained a small sum of money there by passing a worthless check.

Alfred Jaques, United States district attorney, stated last night that trial of the cases will begin in federal court Friday morning. It is likely that a separate trial will be held for each of the defendants, he said. The three men indicted have engaged attorneys Benjamin Goldberg of Duluth and Victor Power of Hibbing.

SEN. HARDING'S SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE A NEW KEYNOTE

ica should be guaranteed the enjoyment of all their rights that they have earned the full measure of citizenship bestowed that their sacrifices in blood on the battlefields of the Republic have entitled them to all freedom and opportunity all of sympathy and aid that the American spirit of fairness and justice demands.

I believe there is an easy and open path to righteous relationship with Mexico. It has seemed to me that our undeveloped uncertain and infirm policy, has made us a culpable party to the Governmental misfortunes in that land. Our relations ought to be both friendly and sympathetic; we would like to acclaim a stable government there and offer a neighborly hand in pointing the way to greater progress.

I believe in law enforcement. I elected I mean to be a constitutional president and it is impossible to ignore the constitution, unthinkable to evade the law when our every commitment is to orderly government.

The four million defenders on land and sea were worthy of the best traditions of a people never war like in peace and never pacifist in war. They commanded our pride, they have our gratitude which must be genuine expression. It is not only a duty, it is a privilege to see that the sacrifices made shall be requited and that those still suffering from casualties and disabilities shall be abundantly aided and restored to the highest capabilities of citizenship and its enjoyment.

The womanhood of America, always its glory, its inspiration and the potent uplifting force in its social and spiritual development is about to be enfranchised. In so far as congress can go the fact is already accomplished. By party edict by my recorded vote by personal conviction I am committed to this measure of justice. It is my earnest hope my sincere desire that the one needed state vote be quickly recorded in the affirmation of the right of equal suffrage and that the vote of every citizen shall be cast and counted in the approaching election.

And to the great number of noble women who have opposed in conviction this tremendous change in the ancient relation of the sexes as applied by government I venture to plead that they will accept the full responsibility of enlarged citizenship and give to the best in the Republic their suffrage and support.

Ours is not only a fortunate people, but a very common sensible people with vision high but their feet on the earth with belief in themselves and faith in God. Whether enemies threaten from without or menaces arise from within there is some indefinable voice says "Have confidence in the Republic. America will go on."

PLACES FOR TWO

By MILDRED WHITE.

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

Sarah drew aside the ruffled curtain to look down the country road. It was not a cheery outlook, with rain making pools of the deep worn ruts, and somber clouds turning the twilight to darkness. But Sarah took in the view philosophically, just as she took the cheerlessness and somberness of her own life.

Time had been, years ago, when the roadside cottage was a house of mirth, merry with young people's laughter and comfortable with the protecting presence of the old.

Sarah's parents had, long since passed to their reward, while the sisters, who were all older than she, lived in various distant homes, more or less selfishly absorbed in their own families. Sarah had clung to the old place, at first through duty to her old invalids, then because there was no place else to go.

She managed to keep the cottage heated and comfortable; to tend and sing over the vegetables in her garden, to keep there, aside, a little plot of flowers with which to cheer the sick or rejoice, perhaps, in some affair of the living.

Sarah was always glad when the stories ended happily, and sometimes, after she had laid the paper aside, she would sit in the cozy, silent room before the fire, picturing to herself a romance which might have been her own. Sarah was sixty now—a good, wholesome, pink-cheeked sixty—but she had put her hope of love aside.

She lighted another yellow shaded lamp in the small yellow dining room and moved about setting the supper table.

She smiled with a sort of weary amusement as she put down a second cup and plate opposite her own, then added a knife and fork for company.

For twenty years Sarah had been doing this same useless thing. It seemed less like being alone to see that other place ready—and waiting, almost as if the door might open at any moment to admit her companion. Then when the supper was quite ready Sarah went out to the stable to shut up old Moll for the night.

Moll was the white horse, and Sarah's desolation so preyed upon her out there in the rain and the darkness that she was tempted to linger beside old Moll, just to feel the comfort of a living presence. And as she stumbled up the steps of the back porch she came all at once face to face with the human presence of a smilingly apologetic and very wet old man.

Raindrops were gleaming on his white beard, rivulets ran from the brim of his felt hat.

"Beg pardon, ma'am," said the old man gently, "but I reckon I've come pretty far in the storm and can't get on to where I was goin'. Kin I dry up a spell by your fire which shines through the window? It looks invitin', I must say." And as the old man's request was coupled with a very evident shiver, Sarah's protective heart immediately responded.

"Go right in ahead of me," she said cordially; "it ain't no time for formalities."

But when the old man was rid of his overcoat and was resting in Sarah's father's arm chair he smiled again in his deprecatory way and took a card from his pocket.

"That's my name," he said, "Ebenzer Styles. Reckon you're acquainted with young E. Styles? Well, he's my son."

"Eben Styles," Sarah repeated, awed, "the lawyer down to the village—him, your son? Hadn't you better telephone to keep him from worryin' for fear you ain't coming back."

The old man sadly shook his head. "The only thing that'll worry Eben, or leastways Eben's wife," he said slowly, "is the fear that I will come back. Seems I kind of make 'em ashamed all the time. Eben's wife she ain't been used to my kind. An' reckon—"

The wrinkled face lit up with grim humor. "Reckon I don't never want to get used to her kind. So when I telephone 'em it'll be just to say that I ain't goin' back."

"But what," asked Sarah wonderingly, "be you goin' to do?"

"That," Ebenzer Styles replied, "will be decided later. I've sold property, an' I get my interest regular from the money what I sold it for."

"Just now, then," Sarah said briskly, "come an' have a little supper."

The old man looked hesitatingly at the table laid so neatly for two. "You was expectin' company," he said; "ain't I puttin' somebody out?"

"For twenty years," she said, "I bin expectin' somebody, an' unt nobody ever came."

Long the man and woman sat in the sunshine of the yellow lamp, with the storm but an echo outside, pouring into each other's sympathetic and understanding ears a story of lonely years past.

"For being with just folks," Ebenzer told her, "can't always keep one from bein' lonesome; why, when I used to walk up here an' sit to the side of the road a-watchin' an' watchin' you in your garden, seemed you must be like—ma. Seemed it'd be mighty nice if I could work beside you there. But land!" he exclaimed, "you will think I'm queer goin' on like this."

Sarah's eyes were visionary. "You watched me?" she asked slowly, "in my garden?"

Ebenzer nodded.

"My! you are like ma," he said admiringly.

And this was Sarah's romance.

Iceberg Acrobat.

The sighting of a fleet of 14 icebergs, one with somersaulting tendencies, was reported by Capt. W. H. Flemming recently on the arrival here of the steamship Munaires from Rotterdam.

The bergs were seen about 750 miles east of Halifax. One of them, said Capt. Flemming, suddenly rolled over with a splash. As it tumbled, a large piece from the top was broken off, causing the berg to take a second tumble. As it was righting, another section broke off, and for the third time the berg turned over. It was about a mile astern of the vessel.—New York World.

A Good Catch.

It is impossible to repress a feeling of satisfaction over the feat of the Atlantic City game warden, who apprehended the owner of a seaplane guilty of shooting wild geese in the air. The law against this sort of "sport" is strict, and the penalty provided for offenders is ample. And, as bird shooting from the air is on a plane with the use of dynamite and explosives in closed waters, the more rigidly the statute is enforced the better. Any leniency would be disastrous to the bird life of the country and calamitous to the United States.—Detroit Free Press.

Aristocratic Swallow.

The swallow comes from an old and aristocratic family and has the honor of being named several times in the Bible, which is not strange, as this tribe skinned the soft air of Palestine in the time of Aristotle, who said, "One swallow maketh not a spring," a proverb translated into all languages. The swallow was honored by a special holiday given to the children of Attica to celebrate his arrival.

North East West South

Supposing that, beginning tomorrow, all the newspapers are discontinued. What a furore the public would make. "News! News! We must have news or we will be no better off than the ancients." "All right, suppose we give them news but cut out the advertisements."

Then we would discover that politics, the doings of society, notices of fires, accidents, deaths, scandals, sports, the activities of the police and criminals add little or nothing to the real comfort and happiness of this greatest age in the world's history.

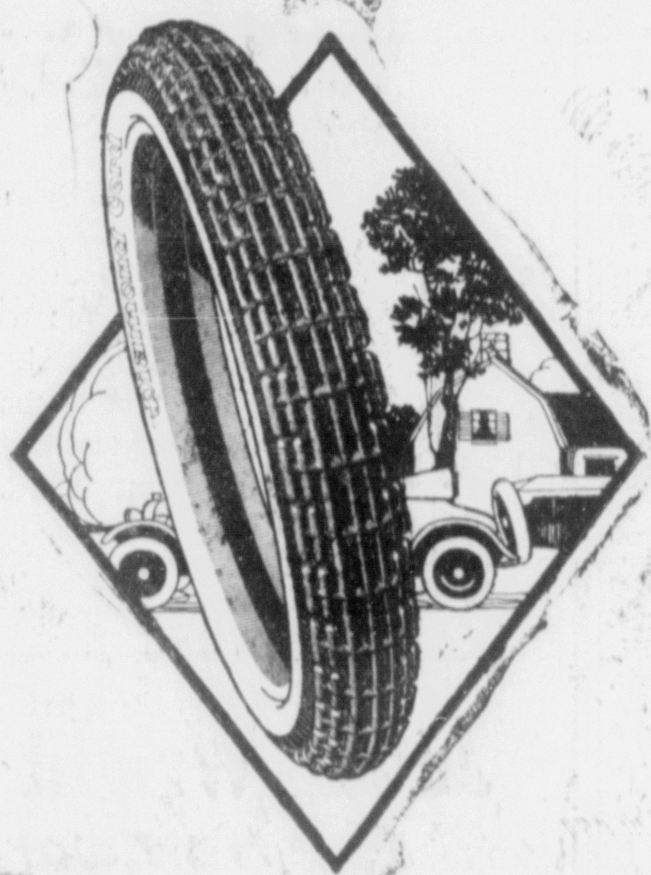

What geni are they that have crowded the last fifty years with so much of advantage to humans? They are legion in number, but not least among them is Advertising.

Our day is the greatest time the world has seen because we have more to be happy with, better things, greater variety, greater comforts gathered together from the North, East, West and South for our choosing and selection. Look about you. This is the day of better food, better homes, better clothing, better babies, better health, better business. And advertising is the instrument that makes these better things possible.

Advertising is the NEWS of all the looms, of all the furnaces, of all the laboratories, of all the shops, of all the stores, of all the world and all working for you.

Because of advertising, luxuries and necessities that once cost a king's ransom are yours at little prices. Advertising pits merchant against merchant, artisan against artisan, producer against producer, for your benefit, forcing out the best there is in everything and telling the world about it.

Read advertising. Keep abreast of today. Advertising furnishes you with facts and opportunities that you would otherwise never know.
